Program Description
The Associate of Fire Science and Administration degree is designed to build a broad base of knowledge for the Fire Service. This program is intended for the Fire Fighter seeking promotion and/or one who plans to transfer into a related four-year bachelor's degree program. This degree follows the Fire and Emergency Services Higher Education (FESHE) model created by the National Fire Academy (NFA). To facilitate distance learning all courses are offered fully on-line.

Program Outcomes
• Fire service professional skills and qualifications for leadership and supervision
• Using the Incident Command System in both daily operations and emergency operations
• Career and promotional opportunities both within and outside of the fire service
• A strong base of knowledge in both liberal and technical education far beyond the Associate in Science
• Organizational and professional communications techniques for the workplace
• Creating a safe working environment in both emergency and non-emergency situations
• Creating and developing the changes needed for the future of the fire service
• Fire prevention activities including inspection, preplanning, investigation, and public fire education
